DONATES COLLECTION

Mr. Joseph Mendes of Mattapoisett is shown with the cabinet full of Sandwich glass fragments which he dug from the site of the old glass works more than 30 years ago. The collection of glass pieces will be of great interest to Sandwich glass collectors. Mr. and Mrs. Mendes have donated it to the Mattapoisett Historical Society Museum together with the beautiful plates of lacy glass on the top shelf.

tables, canning and sewing in its Fair, as well as flowers (with the exception of wild flowers). All entries must be labeled with the name of the variety. In each class any variety may compete for prizes. Just call for one of the premium lists.

Junior displays under 14 years of age will receive the same in awards as the adults with one exception. A $1.00 prize will be given for the best bird house and 50¢ for second prize.

The Fair will be held Saturday, August 24th, in the Grange Hall, starting at 1 P.M. All exhibits must be in place by 12 o'clock noon, when the main hall will be closed for the judging. Hours open to the public will be approximately 1 P.M. Awarding of prizes will be left to the discretion of the judges.

All perishable products not called for by 8:15 P.M. will be sold during the Merchants' Auction to help defray expenses of the Fair.

Some very lovely Burmese vases of peach color are from the collection of Mrs. Katherine Abrams.

Charles Days has set up a display of 1920 radios. An early "portable" with a "Crebe" label and an RCA radio in perfect condition are the highlights of the collection.

The decoy collection of Andy Anderson is extremely varied. Decoys of all sizes are displayed. Some of the bird decoys are now illegal for use with the birds protected.

Pewter fanciers will enjoy a look at Mrs. David Todd's measuring containers of Irish Pewter. They range from 1/2 noggin to 1/2 gallon in size.

Miss Jessie Peacock's collection of antique bottles, many of Sandwich Glass, have held many products from perfume to beer.

Mrs. Harry Erhard has a collection of rare buttons attractively mounted.

Some fine antique rifles from the collection of Thomas I. Sixma will be the envy of admirers of the art of the gun smith.

Mrs. David Moore is showing an extensive collection of salt and pepper shakers from the Pairpoint, Mt. Washington and Sandwich Glass works.

Antique lamps of many kinds are the collection of Mrs. Masterson. These are of glass and metal.

Winfield Jenney's glassware and alphabet plates are extremely fine.

Miss Mildred Jones Keefe has an unusual group of miniature items. There are several plates and small examples of Sandwich glassware.

Mrs. Hazel Sylvia's collection of Bristol and Pairpoint glassware is displayed.

Both dolls and china are the hobby of Mrs. Arthur Knox who is showing both collections.

The exhibit shows some of the prize items of many antique interests. This show will be a bonus for the Mattapoissett House tour on Wednesday. It will be open to the public thru Saturday, August 10th. The museum is open mornings from 10 to 12, 2 to 5 in the afternoons and 7 to 9 in the evenings.

This is the beach at Goodspeed Island. It adjoins the beach that the town has bought with the old railroad right of way. This project was fought for by George White some years ago and finally completed comparatively recently. Already, the Town Beach is jammed on a good Sunday. Soon, townspeople will be thankful for the vision and foresight that added this beach to the town's very small beach area. The town should explore the possibility of acquiring the whole of Goodspeed Island and its beach to complete a wonderful beach - park site.

of saving and protecting marshland, shore land and forest area was well attended Wednesday, July 31st, at the Old Rochester Regional High School auditorium. The Conservation Commissions of Marion, Mattapoisett and Rochester sponsored the talk.

Professor Norton H. Nickerson said that it is not only desirable to maintain wild areas but that it is a matter of keeping the proper balance to maintain life. The cycle of plant life converting carbon dioxide into oxygen and humans and animals breathing in oxygen and exhaling carbon dioxide is vital. No one knows, he stated, how much pollution can be supported by the atmosphere or when the percentage of oxygen which has remained almost constant since life appeared on earth will be affected. That it can know is what will happen if some of these creatures should be eliminated. He said that the salt marshes and swamps are the nursery of the sea. Fill a swamp and you destroy the life breeding area for fish and shellfish. Pollute a stream and you destroy the spawning ground for the fish. Once gone, it is gone forever. There is no restoring these natural resources.

In addition to maintaining life, these wild areas have a vital role in man's mental state. Solitude and the sense of being of one with forest and sea creatures of the earth is a necessary part of the healthy make-up of man. We need to feel a part of the natural state or we lose our place

Those who love Cape Cod will take great heart from the conservation effort that is now underway in Dennis. The slides that Prof. Nickerson showed were taken to show the natural beauty of the wild areas and the plant, bird and animal life that depend on these areas for survival. The river - restful, serene and beautiful. The river is the town's life as the source of some of the purest water in the United States. This fact alone puts the river in a category of supreme importance when it comes to preservation in a natural state.

This is the town dump. The dump now is in good condition but this rubble which is encroaching on the virgin swamp beyond illustrates a great and growing problem. How do you dispose of the mountain of trash generated each week. The swamp is not the answer. Temporarily, it has to do but soon a new method will have to be found to eliminate this fouling of the air and land.

railroad beds that have been abandoned cut through areas of wild beauty in a path leading straight from town to town. This linkage of the towns has led to cooperation in the putting aside of dunes and shore, salt marsh and forest in areas that adjoin. Dennis and its bordering towns are now engaged in such an effort so that they can save wide sections for the enjoyment and the vital life cycle of future generations. This effort has been made urgent by the tremendous increase in visitors caused by the opening of the National Seashore. Each year, officials have been wrong as they estimate the crowds of visitors. The influx is so great that it is imperative that the wilderness be bought and set aside now or be lost forever. If left alone the land will be systematically cut into blocks and built upon until the forest is gone and the swamps filled.

What do we have to worry about? We wondered so we took a look at what we have. In the following photos, we assess what we have now and what we should consider. All three towns of the Old Rochester territory are on the edge of an invasion. The new route 195 is a blessing that hides a danger to the preservation of a way of life that we love. We must plan a course of action to preserve the natural areas of the town or they will be destroyed.

We have something fine. We live amid natural riches but looking around we can see the signs that indicate a danger of its loss. Now is the right time to think about what should be saved.

There is an old saw about "an ounce of prevention being worth a pound of cure". In the case of the land we live on it is preservation or nothing. Young people are idealists and it's their world we are thinking ahead to. If you are under 20 this is a cause that will be vital to you. There is much that can be done to save what is here and to develop that which is neglected. Think about it and, if you're smart, agitate for your ideas.

Where does it lead? This is the route of the railroad bed from the town dump to Marion. This looks interesting enough to walk - have you tried it? This trail may be in good shape but if not it could be with a little interest and work.

This swath is a new one and it is one of many leading into the woods off North Street. The startling changes in this area point up the need for consideration now of a green belt to preserve some of the rich area of forest land for the generations to come. The time is growing short and the tremendous development of the North Street area underlines this fact.

YACHT CLUB RACES

THURSDAY EVENING SERIES

Mattapoisett Yacht Club held the second race in its Thursday evening series, with competition in two classes.

No winner was posted in the Corinthian division, due to the many protests. The final outcome is to be settled by the Race Committee at a later date.

Meredith Barnes, skippering Gay Lee Ann II finished first in the Beetle Cat division.

The Beetle Cats sailed a course, starting in mid-harbor opposite Ned's Point, to Barstow Rock Red Nun 6, to Town Anchorage Red Nun 8 and finish.

From the start it was a close race between Meredith Barnes' Gay Lee Ann II and Kathy Pieper's Blue Cloud, with Gay Lee Ann II finally taking the lead in the last leg of the course to place first. C. Ruel in Deborah came in third.

Ten year old Phillip Warren of Point Connett, Mattapoisett was having a swimming lesson Wednesday morning at the beach at Point Connett when he saw a man lashed to a boat about 150 yards off Point Connett.

The man, William Rocheleau, of New Bedford was pulled from the water by the swimming instructors, Mrs. Richard S. Teixeira and Miss Kathy Dunn, and taken to St. Luke's Hospital where he was reported in good condition.

Rocheleau had lashed himself to his boat after the boat struck a rock about 9 P.M. Tuesday.

90 ENROLLED IN KINDERGARTEN

Principal John R. Moynihan announces the enrollment of 90 youngsters eligible for the newly-established kindergarten class in Mattapoisett Center School. Teachers will be Mrs. Donald Blanchette, who has taught the Pre-Primary class at Center School for the past three years, and Mrs. David N. Kelley, a June graduate of Wheelock College.

The morning session will be conducted between the hours of 9:00 A.M. - 11:30 A.M.; the afternoon session between 12:30 - 3:00 P.M.

Since transportation will not be provided by the school and as an aid to the arrangement of car pools, a tentative grouping list can be found in the office at Center School.

The Grange voted to let the Lions Club use the hall for the Scouts if requirements are satisfactory to both committees.

The lecturer announced a pot luck supper will be held in the downstairs hall Thursday, August 15th, at 6:30 P.M. Members are to bring a dish and their own place setting. Hot and cold drinks will be served by the lecturer. Final Fair plans will be completed after the supper. A social hour will follow.

The lecturer's march was awarded to Mrs. Mary Costa and the mystery package to William Smith.
